

About the Solomon Awards

The Solomon Awards for 2019 were determined and honored at the WFX Conference & Expo on Wednesday, September 18, 2019 in Orlando.

The WFX Solomon Awards are a leading national annual awards program, recognizing church building and design projects, across the full spectrum of church sizes and styles.

Both the 2019 WFX Solomon Awards and WFX New Product Awards are presented by Worship Facilities Magazine and Worship Tech Director.

Last year, more than 30 churches and projects were honored as winners of the Solomon Awards. Take a moment to also read about last year's winners for the WFX New Product Awards.

Finalists and winners each year are determined by an extensive group of distinguished individuals working within the house of worship market, with this year including Worship Facilities Magazine Editor Alison Istnick, as well as Marian Sandberg, Content Director for Worship Facilities, Worship Tech Director, Live Design and XLIVE, to go with a lineup of individuals working with houses of worship.